*As the impact of COVID-19 has been significant since February 2020, the change in fluctuation compared with two years ago (2019) is also stated.

<Special Items>

With regard to the hotels owned by JHR, RevPAR of the total of the 24 Hotels with Variable Rent, etc. for August 2021 decreased by 65.9% from the same month of 2019, affected by the extension of the state of emergency and expansion of the areas subject to the state of emergency, despite some hotels capturing the demand related to the Tokyo Olympics.

In September 2021, although leisure demand from areas located in a short distance away from hotels in the weekend and the Silver Week (a period of consecutive national holidays in September) is relatively strong, RevPAR in September is currently expected to decline by around 70% compared to the same month of 2019, affected by the further extension of the state of emergency and other factors.

Under such circumstances, each hotel continues to strive to give consideration to health of guests and employees and working to manage hygiene environment and conducting operations while thoroughly implementing cost management. In addition, each hotel is working to secure sales by taking measures aimed at capturing demand for the near term, such as developing value-added products and price-conscious products that meet market conditions. Each hotel also looks ahead to the lift of the state of emergency and relaxation of movement restrictions in October, and working to secure sales in the near term and respond to the period of recovery in demand through development of attractive products.
