Daido Metal Co., Ltd. Named 2022 Certified Health and Productivity
Management Outstanding Organization (Large Enterprise Category)

On March 9, 2022, Daido Metal Co., Ltd. was named a 2022 Certified Health and Productivity Management Outstanding Organization (Large Enterprise Category).

The recognition is a joint certification given by the Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry and Nippon Kenko Kaigi (health promotion organization).

Health and Productivity Management Outstanding Organizations are those enterprises, large or small, who engage in notable initiatives that address regional health issues and health promotion measures recommended by the Nippon Kenko Kaigi.

The Daido Metal Group considers that employee health is an important business resource and the source of corporate vitality. Based on this belief, we will continue engaging in health management and promote employee health.
