TradeStation Reports Brokerage Metrics for April 2022

PLANTATION, FL, May 9, 2022 – TradeStation Group, Inc. (“TradeStation”), the parent company of award-winning self-clearing online brokerages for trading stocks, ETFs, equity and index options, futures, futures options and cryptocurrencies, today reported certain monthly business metrics for April 2022:

- 240,417 Total Customer Accounts at April 30, 2022
- 19,805 Gross New Accounts opened
- $10.8 billion Total Customer Assets, 0.7% lower than prior year
- $2.8 billion of Total Customer Cash, 4.1% lower than prior year
- 226,760 Daily Average Revenue Trades (DARTs), 4.1% higher than prior year

Comparisons to the prior year mean a comparison of the month or month-end, as applicable, of April 2022 to the month or month-end, as applicable, of April 2021.

Total Customer Accounts is the number of customer brokerage accounts with a positive account balance at the end of the period presented.

Gross New Accounts is the total number of approved customer brokerage accounts funded during the period presented, and includes accounts funded during the period presented that were opened and approved (but not funded) in a prior period, as well as accounts that were opened and funded in a prior period, but then went to a zero balance and were subtracted from Total Customer Accounts, but then were again funded during the period presented.

Total Customer Assets is total cash and assets held in customer brokerage accounts at the end of the period presented.

Total Customer Cash is the aggregate cash held in customer brokerage accounts (equities and futures accounts – no cash is held in customer cryptocurrency accounts) at the end of the period presented.

Daily Average Revenue Trades (DARTs) means daily average revenue trades made by customers. A revenue trade means one completed customer equities, options, futures, or crypto trade, regardless of the number of shares, contracts, or units included in such trade, and includes trades completed under TradeStation’s “zero commission” plans (which are supported by payment-for-order-flow, or “PFOF,” revenue). Each “side” of a futures trade is counted as one revenue trade. Partial fills of an equities order on the same day are aggregated and counted as one revenue trade. DARTs are calculated by dividing the total number of revenue trades in the period presented by the total number of “Trading Days” in the period presented. A “Trading Day” means each day during the period presented that trading is open on NYSE and Nasdaq markets. A day on which such markets close early, such as the Friday after Thanksgiving, is counted as half a day. DARTs is a general indicator, as each of the asset classes TradeStation offers has a different fee structure and level of profitability.

Included in both Total Customer Accounts and Gross New Accounts are customer cryptocurrency accounts opened and funded through a marketing promotion that began December 20, 2021 in which TradeStation makes the initial account funding for the customer (BTC equal to $10.00). Cryptocurrency accounts opened under this promotion represented 12,101 of the 13,057 total gross new cryptocurrency accounts added in the month of April 2022. This cryptocurrency account promotion ended April 30, 2022. Of TradeStation’s 240,417 Total Customer Accounts at April 30, 2022, 54,943 were cryptocurrency accounts opened under the promotion which had no customer account activity from the date of account opening through April 30, 2022.

More information, including historical results for each of the above metrics, are attached.
