

Analyst and Investor Briefing on FY2022.3

(Fiscal year ended March 31, 2022)

May 12, 2022

Yamaha Corporation

FY2022.3 Full Year Highlights

Overview

Performance in FY2022.3

- Revenue and profit both increased year-on-year as markets continued to recover from the impact of the spread of COVID-19.
- Supply shortages continued due to semiconductor procurement difficulties.
- Although logistics and procurement costs rose, core operating profit increased due to the effects of higher revenue.

Outlook

Full Year Forecasts for FY2023.3

- Although the impact of semiconductor procurement difficulties remains especially for audio equipment, revenue and profit are both projected to rise due to easing of musical instrument supply shortages.

2. Segment Overview & Updates

Segment Revenue and Core Operating Profit

FY2022.3 Overview: Revenue up in all product categories

- Sales of pianos and wind, string, and percussion instruments grew by double digits. Despite semiconductor procurement difficulties, digital musical instrument sales also rose as supply gradually recovered, while guitar sales increased due to continuing firm demand amid supply shortage.
- Sales increased in all regions as market recovered.

FY2023.3 Outlook: Revenue expected to increase in all categories and regions

- Supply shortages are expected to ease as impacts of semiconductor procurement difficulties are resolved.

Segment Revenue and Core Operating Profit

FY2022.3 Overview: Revenue fell for AV products and ICT equipment, but rose for PA equipment

- AV: Sales decline was reduced from the previous forecast due to the partial recovery of production and actively selling slow moving inventory.
- PA: Although revenue increased as the live performance market rebounded, the impacts of semiconductor procurement difficulties emerged in 4Q.
- ICT: High growth in UC* product sales levelled off, and network device sales declined despite firm demand, due to supply shortages.

FY2023.3 Outlook: Although the impacts of semiconductor procurement difficulties will linger, revenue is projected to increase

- AV: Sales are expected to decline due to the prolonged impact of semiconductor procurement difficulties, which were expected to ease in 2H.
- PA: Although the impacts of semiconductor procurement difficulties will linger, revenue is projected to increase as markets continue to recover.
- ICT: Despite the impact of semiconductor procurement difficulties, solid demand is expected to continue, and revenue is expected to rise.
