

Opening of Ichigo Yokosuka Port Market in Miura Peninsula, Kanagawa Prefecture

Ichigo is a Japanese sustainable infrastructure company dedicated to making the world more sustainable. In keeping with its Ichigo 2030 vision, Ichigo has renovated the former Yokosuka Port Market and reopened it as the Ichigo Yokosuka Port Market, featuring the local food and agriculture of the Miura Peninsula.

Local Food & Agriculture of the Miura Peninsula

The market offers a comprehensive experience centered on food spanning aspects such as the farming, fishing, and livestock industries, services, dining, markets, education, environmental issues, and social contributions. With a focus on local consumption of local produce, the market aims to be a new food center of Yokosuka and the Miura Peninsula which both visitors and local residents can enjoy.

Local Food Assortment of Yokosuka & the Miura Peninsula

The market features a variety of popular foods produced by local businesses of Yokosuka and the Miura Peninsula, which both tourists and local residents can enjoy.

Shop List

The market includes shops such as characteristic Yokosuka shops, popular local shops seeking to open a second location, and Tokyo shops looking to feature local ingredients.

Ichigo's Initiatives

The Ichigo Yokosuka Port Market project was launched in 2019 when City Support Yokosuka, a wholly-owned entity of Yokosuka City, selected an Ichigo-led consortium to renovate and operate the former Yokosuka Port Market as a Public-Private Partnership (PPP). The former Yokosuka Port Market was originally opened in 2013 upon renovating a refrigeration warehouse built in 1987. Ichigo was selected as a PPP operator based on its strong value-add capabilities with the aim of developing the facility into a core tourist attraction of Kanagawa Prefecture. In preparation for today's opening, Ichigo renovated the facility transforming its interior design and doubling total floor space, and successfully attracted tenants representative of the Miura Peninsula's robust food culture.
