2. Reason for the Issuance of the Green Bonds

NPR is issuing the Green Bonds, proceeds from which will be allocated toward repayment of the borrowings in connection with the acquisition of Eligible Green Projects, (as defined in “4. Eligibility of Green Bonds” below). Through the issuance of the Green Bonds, NPR continues to provide the Japanese debt capital market with ESG investment opportunities and aims to further expand the investor universe of NPR’s debt instruments.

3. Amount of Funds to be Raised, Use of Proceeds and Schedule of Disbursement

- (1) Amount of Funds to be Raised (net of Associated Expenses)
2,981 million yen

(2) Use of Proceeds from the Issuance of the Green Bonds

The proceeds from the bond issuance will be allocated to a part of the prepayment of the 5,000 million-yen short-term loans (the "Prepayment"), which were described in the press release “Nippon Prologis REIT Announces Debt Financing and Completion of Interest Rate Swap Agreement” dated December 13, 2022.

The subject short-term loans were borrowed for acquisitions of three properties (Prologis Park Inagawa 1, Prologis Park Kobe 3 and Prologis Park Ogori), all of which are qualified as the Eligible Green Projects, which was described in the press release “Nippon Prologis REIT Announces Acquisition of Domestic Real Estate Trust Beneficiary Interests and Lease Contract with New Tenants” dated December 5, 2022.

4. Eligibility of the Green Bonds

The Prologis Group, including NPR, established the Prologis Green Bond Framework (the "Framework"), which conforms to the Green Bond Principles for the issuance of green bonds. The Framework is endorsed by a second-party opinion (Note) (the "Second-Party Opinion") from Sustainalytics, an ESG and corporate governance research agency, to align with the Green Bond Principles.

The subject investment corporation bonds are qualified as the Green Bonds, being issued based on the Framework, and are subject to the Second-Party Opinion. According to the Framework, the “Eligible Green Projects” are defined as properties that meet the criteria set forth in the Framework, and all of the properties described above 3. (2) correspond to the Eligible Green Projects.
