<Investment in intellectual properties, etc.>

The Company is expanding its business into domains ranging from food & beverages to pharmaceuticals by leveraging its technological capabilities and knowledge accumulated through research and development in the domains of fermentation and biotechnology. The Company is positioning the intellectual property created in each domain as one of its important management assets, and is securing and utilizing patent rights, etc. while respecting the rights of other companies, aiming for sustainable growth through differentiation by creating customer value and securing business flexibility in compliance with the law.

In the Company's food & beverages domain, for example, the "caffeine clearing process" (patented technology), which uses a naturally-derived adsorbent to remove caffeine from tea leaves while retaining the flavor and richness, is used in Namacha caffeine-free to differentiate the product by creating new customer value. The Company is also working to improve the competitiveness of its products and services by utilizing intellectual property in the Home Tap® home beer server (patent and design registration) and the Tap

Marche® dedicated craft beer dispenser (business model patent, etc.).

Furthermore, the Company's pharmaceuticals domain is based on research and development, and intellectual property is one of the most important management assets. With regard to intellectual property, which is important for R&D and business strategies, the Company strives to obtain effective patent rights through strategic application, to maximize product value through life cycle management. At the same time, the Company strives to ensure freedom in its research and business activities while pursuing compliance to ensure that the rights of other companies are respected and not infringed. The Company believes that this will contribute to maximizing the value and profits of its global business activities and minimizing risks and will also lead to a stable supply of pharmaceuticals.

In the health science domain connecting food & beverages and pharmaceuticals, which the Company has entered since 2019, the Company has launched "iMUSE®" brand products (application patents, etc.) containing "Lactococcus lactis strain Plasma®", which was the first product in Japan to receive a functional food labelling notification for immune functions. In addition, the Company is working to solve social issues related to health through the launch of proprietary materials and products that create new value. Based on the results of a diversified analysis, the Company has identified the intellectual property necessary to achieve the financial targets of the project (2027) and plans to strategically build assets by allocating the human capital and activity costs of the R&D division necessary to acquire the rights.

As mentioned in the example of the food & beverages domain, the Company considers not only patents, but also unique and attractive designs to be important assets, and is actively investing in them. Under this policy, the Company is pursuing activities to prevent imitation from other companies by securing design rights for containers, packaging materials, and beverage servers with high design quality.

In addition, the Company is working to enhance the brand value of the Company and its products, and to prevent damage and dilution by actively and strategically securing and utilizing trademark rights in Japan and overseas as a means of increasing corporate value and achieving financial targets.
