[Reference] FMI's Shareholder Returns

FMI return profits to shareholders through the "distribution of surplus" and the "shareholder benefit program."

① Dividends of surplus;

Regarding our dividend policy, as announced on December 27, 2022, the dividend payout ratio is set at 40% of consolidated net income (net income attributable to owners of the parent), excluding consolidated subsidiary Frontier Capital Inc. ("FCI"), in light of our consolidated results of operations, financial position, economic conditions, and other factors.

In the "Consolidated Earnings Forecast for the Fiscal Year Ending December 31, 2022 (January 1, 2023 to December 31, 2023)" in the "Consolidated Financial Results for the Fiscal Year Ending December 31, 2022 [Japanese GAAP] (Consolidated)" announced on February 10, 2023, net income attributable to owners of parent for the Fiscal Year Ending December 31, 2023 is expected to be 700 million yen. However, as described on page 19 of the "Financial Results for the Fiscal Year Ending December 31, 2022" on our website on the same date, net income attributable to owners of parent excluding FCI is expected to be 1 billion yen.

Accordingly, our total year-end dividend is calculated by multiplying net income attributable to owners of the parent of ¥1 billion excluding FCI by a dividend payout ratio of 40% in accordance with the above dividend policy.

The year-end dividend for the fiscal year ended December 2023 will be announced after the results for the fiscal year ended December 2023 are finalized.
