Release of TEPCO Integrated Report 2023

The TEPCO Integrated Report has been published since 2017 as a communication tool to explain to shareholders, institutional investors, and other stakeholders what TEPCO group is currently doing and what it will be doing in the medium to long term.

This report includes information on the four categories that the TEPCO Group has identified as materiality (key issues), or namely, “balancing revitalization with decommissioning,” “contributing to a comfortable and safe carbon neutral society,” “regaining trust in nuclear power,” “and strengthening our business foundation,” and showcases initiatives that the TEPCO Group is engaged in to improve corporate value over the mid/long-term.

This report also discloses a plethora of information on our human resource initiatives and our manner in which we are addressing carbon neutrality, which is drawing more and more attention as an ESG issue.

In all of our integrated reports, we strive to organize and express financial and non-financial information in an easy-to-understand manner based on integrated thinking.

Through the release of the integrated report and the disclosure of more detailed ESG information, the TEPCO Group works to promote and strengthen engagement with its stakeholders, while aiming to raise its corporate value and realize the creation of social value.
