The corporate governance of (the “Company”) is described below.

I. Basic Views on Corporate Governance, Capital Structure, Corporate Attributes, and Other Key Information

1. Basic Views

Futaba views the objective of corporate governance as “establishing disciplined company management in the eye of diverse internal and external stakeholders to build a strong and sound company.” We acknowledge the importance of building and improving organizational systems enabling the effective functioning of corporate governance to conduct business activities in compliance with laws, regulations, and social norms, as well as to enhance business transparency. To this end, we will continue to develop and improve these systems with an emphasis on (1) faster-paced management with enhanced strategic capabilities, (2) ensuring the transparency of corporate conduct, and (3) enhancing disclosure and accountability.

Reasons for Non-compliance with the Principles of the Corporate Governance Code

*The contents of this report are based on the June 2021 revised code.

All principles in the code have been implemented.

Disclosure Based on each Principle of the Corporate Governance Code

*The contents of this report are based on the June 2021 revised code.

■Principle 1-4: Strategic Shareholdings

(1)Policy on Strategic Shareholdings

Strategic shareholdings reflect our belief that cooperative partnerships with various companies in the development, procurement, production, sales, and other processes is necessary to sustain the growth of our business. At the same time, we evaluate the economic rationality and validity of all owned shares every year.

(2)Criteria on the Exercise of Voting Rights

With respect to the exercise of voting rights, we respect the management policies and business strategies of investee companies, and made decisions according to factors such as whether exercising the rights contributes to improving corporate value over the medium- to long-term and to achieving sustainable growth, rather than approving or disapproving such exercise based on a uniform standard.

■Principle 1-7: Dealings between Related Parties

At Futaba, decisions concerning dealings between directors and other companies, as well as potential conflicts of interest, are made in full compliance with the procedures stipulated in the Companies Act and in accordance with the Rules of the Board of Directors. Similarly, as with general dealings, decisions on dealings with major shareholders, are made after careful consideration of market value and duly conducted negotiations.

■Principle 2-4: Ensure Futaba Diversity that Encompasses Promoting the Active Engagement of Women

□Supplementary Principle 2-4-1

We believe that having a workforce with diverse attributes and values that manifests its capabilities to the fullest and engages in its activities with vigor and peace of mind spurs the growth of the company. More specifically, we promote measures such as encouraging the hiring of women, foreign nationals, people with disabilities, and elderly people, as well as enhancing work-life balance.

With respect to the active engagement of women, we have set the objective of tripling the fiscal 2019 number of female staff in manager or higher level positions over the five years from fiscal 2020 to 2024.

We have also set the goal of having women comprise 20% of new graduate hires.

In terms of foreign national staff, we are intensifying recruitment in Japan and appointment to manager or higher level positions while simultaneously promoting local staff to executive ranks in our subsidiaries outside Japan.

■Principle 2-6: Fulfilling Our Role as a Company Pension Asset Owner

The company pension is managed by a foundation that constitutes an organization separate and distinct from Futaba. Asset management is verified by the Board of Representatives following deliberations by the Management Committee.

To enable the foundation to fulfill its expected role as an asset owner, Futaba selects people suitably qualified to manage assets from the Accounting & Finance Center or other centers and recommends them for the Board of Representatives and the Management Committee.

Similarly, the selection of investments by the foundation not only involves the management committee aiming to maximize the return for beneficiaries, but also follows a system that manages conflicts of interest of interests appropriately through means such as requiring approval after extensive deliberation by the Board of Representatives, which includes union executives and other employee representatives.

■Principle 3-1: Extensive Information Disclosure

(2) Approach and Basic Policy Concerning Governance

Refer to Section 1.1 Basic Approach for information on the underlying concepts of corporate governance.

The basic policy on addressing the corporate governance code clearly states the initiatives we must implement and aims to establish better corporate governance to impart a deep understanding of the purpose and spirit of the code to achieve sustainable growth and increase medium-term corporate value for Futaba.

(3) Compensation for Senior Executives and Directors

Compensation for Directors (excluding outside directors), executive officers, and top managers consists of a monthly salary, bonus, and dividends from restricted stock. The monthly salary is a fixed compensation, while the bonus is linked to corporate results and reflects the duties and results of the incumbent.

The restricted stock compensation system was introduced in the 2019 fiscal year as an incentive to sustainably raise Futaba corporate value and further share that value with shareholders. In December 2018, the voluntary Compensation Committee, comprised primarily of independent outside directors, was established as an advisory body to the Board of Directors, which considers the recommendations submitted by the Compensation Committee to determine the compensation of the directors, executive officers, and top managers. The input of the committee has been included in the director compensation proposal since the general meeting of shareholders in 2019.

(4) Appointment and Dismissal of Senior Executives and Directors, and Appointment of Audit & Supervisory Board Members

The Board of Directors emphasizes the balance of skills, experience, and expertise, as well as diversity and suitability for the position, to make prompt and sound decisions concerning the nomination, appointment, and dismissal of directors, executive officers, and top managers. In December 2018, the voluntary Nominating Committee, comprised primarily of independent outside directors, was established as an advisory body to the Board of Directors, which considers the recommendations submitted by the Nominating Committee to determine the nomination, dismissal, and appointment of directors, executive officers, and top managers. The input of the committee has been included in the director nomination, appointment, and dismissal proposal since the general meeting of shareholders in 2019.

The appointment of Audit & Supervisory Board members is determined with the consent of the Audit & Supervisory Board.

The Board of Directors obtains that consent via a resolution of the Audit & Supervisory Board, and submits a proposal for the appointment of Audit & Supervisory Board members to the general meeting of shareholders.

(5) Explanation of Individual Nominations, Appointments, or Dismissals

The Board of Directors considers the reasons for individual nominations, appointments, or dismissals in conjunction with the recommendations submitted by the Nominating Committee, which primarily consists of independent outside directors, in determining the nomination, dismissal, and appointment of directors, executive officers, and top managers. The Notice of the General Meeting of Shareholders also presents the background of each person nominated, appointed, or dismissed as a director or Audit & Supervisory Board member.

■Principle 3-1: Extensive Information Disclosure

Futaba supports the common objectives of the international community represented by the sustainable development goals (SDGs), and has defined the 14 Priority Issues (Materiality) to resolve environmental and social issues through its business activities and reinforce the management foundation that supports those activities. The priority issues are incorporated into our Medium-term Management Policy and acted upon by the entire Futaba Group via the policies established in each fiscal year.

At the same time, we are using the Futaba Way as our starting point to bring environmental friendliness, peace of mind, and quality of life to society through products that embody the strengths cultivated over the years, as well as to enhance corporate value by achieving our business objectives. We will be formulating approaches to financial capital, manufactured capital, intellectual capital, human capital, social and relationship capital, and natural capital as we work on creating and enhancing corporate value.

Human capital reflects our awareness that human resources constitute a crucial business foundation to achieve both our Medium-term Management Plan and offer the three core values of the environment, peace of mind, and quality of life that have long been prioritized by Futaba. Consequently, we have made “every employee plays an active role” our basic approach to human resources, and defined the strengths of each individual, job satisfaction, and taking on challenges as the three pillars necessary to realize active participation by all employees. We have established the Human Resources Strategy Committee, which is attended by top managers, to assess and implement human resources management strategies, as well as promote personnel system reforms to facilitate participation by all employees. These initiatives are intended to put individual employees in the proper position to leverage their strengths, take on challenges, engage actively, and grow, and to contribute to the sustainable growth of society through the company’s business activities.

The FUTABA Integrated Report, published annually since September 2021, presents and describes our initiatives regarding sustainability and the various types of management capital for that year. Editions of the FUTABA Integrated Report published since September 2022 also present and describe the risks and opportunities related to climate change, and their impact on Futaba business activities and financial results. - (1)The executives in charge of General Affairs, Human Resources, and Accounting supervise all dialogue with shareholders and actively strive to make it constructive through financial results briefings and various other initiatives.
- (2)We manage IR activities by appointing IR supervisors in the General Affairs & Human Resources Center, as well as through coordination with the Accounting & Finance Center, Corporate Planning Division, and other related departments.
- (3)In addition to in-person meetings, we establish dialogue through financial results briefings for analysts and investors after the results announcements (twice a year) and company presentations (IR: four times per year, SR: twice a year) via securities company conferences in and outside Japan. Policy on Determining Remuneration Amounts and Calculation Methods	Established
--	-------------

Futaba determines the compensation of directors and Audit & Supervisory Board members in accordance with the basic policy below.

I. Basic Policy on Compensation for Directors and Audit & Supervisory Board Members

(1) Basic approach

Compensation for Futaba directors is set at a level competitive enough to attract and retain talented incumbents who will implement the Futaba corporate vision, and motivate them to fulfill their expected role in sustainably raising both corporate and shareholder value. In specific terms, the compensation for directors assuming the execution of duties consists of a monthly salary, bonuses, and stock dividends, while the compensation for outside directors assuming a supervisory role consists solely of a monthly salary. At the same time, we ensure rationality, objectivity, and transparency regarding both the details and decision procedure of the compensation to remain fully accountable to shareholders and other stakeholders with respect to the compensation for directors.

(2) Policy on the Amounts and Calculation of Monthly Salaries and Bonuses, as well as on the Period, Conditions, and Other Factors Concerning Payment

All directors are paid a predetermined amount as salary every month. The amount of the monthly salary is determined based on their position, duties, and other responsibilities, and revised as appropriate to take into account results, competitor levels, social conditions, and other factors to ensure its competitiveness in securing and retaining talented incumbents. Directors assuming the execution of duties also received a fixed bonus amount as a reward for their contribution to corporate results for each business year. After the Board of Directors has calculated the amount paid in light of factors such as the consolidated operating profit for the individual business years, and the level of achievement of targets set in the Medium-term Management Plan, the bonuses are paid in the amounts and during the period stipulated by resolution of the Annual General Meeting of Shareholders.

(3) Policy on the Details, Calculation, and Date of Payment of Stock Dividends

Every business year, restricted stocks are allocated to directors assuming the execution of duties as a reward for said execution until, in principle, immediately after retirement from the position, for the purpose of sharing value with shareholders as well as motivating the directors to contribute to raising the medium- to long-term corporate and share value. The monetary claims that can be used to redeem payment for the allocated shares are granted at a certain period every year. The number of allocated shares is determined based on position, duties, share price, and other factors.

(4) Policy on Determining the Ratio of Compensation of Monthly Salary, Bonus, and Share Amounts for the Directors

The ratio of each type of compensation for directors assuming the execution of duties is determined based on factors such as position, duties, and competitor trends. A proportion of 60% in monthly salary, 30% in bonuses, and 10% in shares has been set as a guideline for the types of compensation.

(5) Matters Concerning the Delegation of the Determination of the Details of Individual Compensation

The details of the compensation for individual directors are entirely determined by the President as delegated by resolution of the Board of Directors. Upon delegation by resolution of the Board of Directors, the President carefully considers the deliberations and recommendations of the voluntary Compensation Committee, which is comprised of a majority of independent outside directors, and decides on the compensation of the individual directors. However, the number of shares allocated as stock compensation to individual directors is determined by resolution of the Board of Directors upon careful consideration of the deliberations and recommendations of the voluntary Compensation Committee.

The compensation of Audit & Supervisory Board members is determined by resolution of the Audit & Supervisory Board.

Support System for Outside Directors (and/or Outside Audit and Supervisory Board Members)

Outside directors and outside Audit & Supervisory Board members are informed of matters to be submitted to the Board of Directors in advance, and receive briefings from the parties concerned as necessary. In addition, we have established an Audit & Supervisory Board Office with dedicated staff members as a body to support the duties of Audit & Supervisory Board members.

The committee deliberates important matters concerning the establishment and operation of internal control, as well as risk management, and makes policy decisions on such matters for the purpose of maintaining and advancing ongoing internal control activities. Two full-time Audit & Supervisory Board members attend meetings of the Internal Control Committee.

Chaired by the Chief Officer of the General Affairs & Human Resources Center, and comprised of a deputy chairperson and members selected among the chief officers, deputy chief officers, and the various division and department general managers, this committee clearly defines management and operation procedures concerning information assets handled in the course of Futaba business activities. In doing so, the committee carries out appropriate management of information on confidential matters (“confidential information”) and information security for the purpose of preventing the leakage or inappropriate use of confidential information, as well as the inappropriate use of confidential information by third parties.

Specifically, the members attend the Board of Directors meetings, the Internal Control Committee meetings, and other important meetings. In addition to receiving reports from directors or other executives on the execution of duties, they perform tasks such as verifying the contents of reports by the internal audit division and conducting interviews with top management both in and outside Japan.

(4) Accounting audits

The accounting auditor is PricewaterhouseCoopers Aarata.

Continuous audit period: 5 years

Two employees designated as auditing staff (Eiichi Yamanaka and Masahide Kobayashi)

Seven certified public accountants, and 11 other staff members

3. Reasons for Adoption of Current Corporate Governance System

Futaba has appointed four outside directors.

Mr. Masaki Horie, an outside director, has expert knowledge and experience acquired over many years of experience as a certified public accountant.

Mr. Masayoshi Ichikawa, an outside director, has wealth of experience as an executive at Toyoda Gosei Co., Ltd., and brings wide-ranging insight. Although there are sales and other business dealings for automotive parts between Futaba and Toyoda Gosei Co., Ltd., the latter does not fall under the main business partners stipulated in the criteria for independence.

Ms. Motoko Miyajima, an outside director, has expert knowledge and experience acquired over many years of experience as an attorney at law.

Mr. Yoshihisa Miyabe, an outside director, is the head of the Toyota Motor Corporation Motomachi Plant and has extensive knowledge accumulated over years of involvement in production engineering divisions. There sales and other business dealings for automotive parts between Futaba and Toyota Motor Corporation, and the latter owns 31.44% of Futaba shares. Although the two companies have regular business dealings, there is no direct conflict of interest for an individual outside director.

Of the four outside directors, Mr. Horie, Mr. Ichikawa, and Ms. Miyajima are independent officers.

We further ensure the independence and objectivity of the management supervision function by appointing outside Audit & Supervisory Board members as two of the four Audit & Supervisory Board members responsible for supervising the business management decision making function and execution of duties.

Mr. Hitoshi Suzuki, an outside Audit & Supervisory Board member, is a qualified certified public accountant with expertise in accounting and finance.

Mr. Shigeo Hayashi, an outside Audit & Supervisory Board member, has wealth of experience as an executive at Olympus Corporation, and brings wide-ranging insight.

Both members are independent officers.

Futaba has not spelled out explicit criteria or policies on independence for the appointment of outside directors and outside Audit & Supervisory Board members. However, we make appointment decisions on the premise that incumbents do not have a conflict of interest with general shareholders and possess a wealth of experience as executives in other companies, as well as from the standpoint of securing sufficient independence for them to carry out their duties appropriately from a neutral and objective perspective.

The outside directors and outside Audit & Supervisory Board members offer advice and suggestions to ensure the appropriateness of Board of Director decision making both in terms of their individual areas of expertise and from an external perspective. Furthermore, insofar as their circumstances permit, outside Audit & Supervisory Board members visit subsidiaries and regularly report audit results to the directors, including outside directors. Consequently, we believe we have a sufficient management supervision function in place.
