The corporate governance of KOMEDA Holdings Co., Ltd. (“KOMEDA Holdings” or “the Company”) is described below.

I. Basic Views on Corporate Governance, Capital Structure, Corporate Profile and Other Basic Information

1. Basic Views

To achieve sustainable growth and increase corporate value over the medium to long term, the Company maintains good relationships with shareholders and all stakeholders, fulfills its social responsibilities as a company, and is working to strengthen its corporate governance system with the aim of establishing a legal compliance system, building an effective internal control system, and ensuring management objectivity and prompt decision-making.

Reasons for Non-compliance with Principles of the Corporate Governance Code

The Company is compliant with all principles.

Disclosure Based on the Principles of the Corporate Governance Code

[Principle 1-4 Cross-shareholdings]

KOMEDA Holdings does not hold listed shares as cross-shareholdings.

[Principle 1-7 Related Party Transactions]

When conducting transactions with officers and major shareholders, etc., the Company obtains the approval of the Board of Directors after consulting opinions from the Audit and Supervisory Committee members, deliberating them. Transactions with a conflict of interest are approved by the Board of Directors as required. Furthermore, in the event of transactions between these related parties, disclosure will be made in accordance with relevant laws and regulations such as the Companies Act and the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act, as well as the rules stipulated by stock exchanges.

[Supplementary Principle 2-4 (1) Ensuring Diversity in the Promotion, etc. of Core Personnel]

To provide customers with “an ideal space and service for KUTSUROGI” as well as contribute to the enhancement of corporate value over the medium to long term and the realization of sustainable societies through its business activities, the Company addressed material issues that should be prioritized (hereinafter referred to as "Materiality"). One such matter is "Promotion of human resource diversity." To achieve this, the Company will embrace diversity (diversity and inclusion) in areas such as gender, age, marriage, race, nationality, religion, and disability, and strive to create and improve a workplace environment where a wide range of human resources can demonstrate their individuality and abilities.

The main initiatives for the above policy are as follows.

(Promoting the Advancement of Women)

To increase the number of female employees involved decision-making in management in the future, the Company has women in two managerial roles, including general managers, along with a Chief Store Operation Officer (CSOO), a specialist in KOMEDA's store operations, and a Chief Smiling Ambassador (CSA), a specialist in customer service. These four women participate in weekly departmental management meetings to discuss and share information with other departments prior to decision-making.

In addition, the Company has formed a project team for the active participation of women with the aim of the development of female leaders, and conducted activities to improve internal issues. After the project was implemented, the directors have held regular consultation with the project team members as mentors and provided training to improve their abilities.

As a result of these initiatives, in 2019 KOMEDA Co., Ltd. received a three-star "Eruboshi" rating indicating a company that promotes the advancement of women. As of the end of the fiscal year ended February 2023, the ratio of female managers, including female store managers, was 19.6%, exceeding the target of 18% for the end of February 2026. Accordingly, the Company has set a new target of 23% by then, and will continue to promote the creation of workplaces where women can play an active role.

(Active Participation of Non-Japanese Human Resources)

KOMEDA Holdings is also focusing on promoting the active participation of overseas human resources with the aim of responding to the future decline in the working population and vitalizing human resources. In the fiscal year ended February 2023, 43 graduates of the KOMEDA Training Center in Myanmar entered Japan and are playing active roles in the operations of directly managed stores and bakeries, and will receive training aimed at promotion to management positions in the future.

In addition, the Company has established local subsidiaries in Taiwan and Indonesia to expand its business. For business growth, the Company is selecting and developing local management personnel in order to accurately grasp the needs of diverse local customers and respond quickly and flexibly. Therefore, a voluntary and measurable target for the ratio of foreign managers has not been set.

(Recruitment of diverse human resources)

In the era of an economic environment marked by VUCA (volatility, uncertainty, complexity, and ambiguity), KOMEDA Holdings believes that diversity of human resources is important for continued expansion of its business, and has proactively hired mid-career human resources with various career backgrounds. As a result, as of the end of February 2023, the ratio of mid-career hires of employees has reached a high level of 87%. For this reason, the Company has not set a voluntary and measurable target for the ratio of mid-career hires to managerial positions, but will continue to actively promote recruitment and promotion to core positions in order to reflect this diversity in management.

(Creating a Workplace Environment Comfortable for Diverse Human Resources)

KOMEDA Holdings strives to create a workplace environment that improve employee's rewarding to ensure the diversity of human resources, and is promoting the development of a workplace environment that makes the most of human resource diversity in accordance with the following five materiality matters. In addition, since last fiscal year, the Company has focused on employee engagement, and added engagement survey items to the annual Employee Satisfaction Survey.

Materiality	Details of Initiatives

Eradicating discrimination and harassment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Harassment Prevention Training - Establishment and operation of a harassment consultation desk (helpline)

[Principle 2-6 Roles of a Corporate Pension Fund as an Asset Owner]

Since the Company's retirement pension plan is a defined contribution corporate pension plan, there is no investment of the corporate pension fund, and no impact on the Company's financial position.

[Principle 3-1 Full Disclosure]

(1) The Company publishes its management philosophy, management strategy, and management plan on its website. Please refer to the following URL. <http://www.komeda-holdings.co.jp/>

(2) The basic approach to corporate governance is described in "I.1 Basic View" of this report.

(3) The Company decides on policies and procedures for determining the amount of remuneration for Directors (excluding directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee Members, "Directors") within the limits of the total amount of remuneration for Directors as determined by the General Meeting of Shareholders, taking into account the role, degree of contribution, performance, etc. of each Director, and after deliberation by the Board of Directors upon receiving a report from the Independent Advisory Committee (composed of four independent outside directors), which is an advisory body to the Board of Directors. In addition, the policy and procedures for determining the amount of remuneration for directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members ("Audit and Supervisory Committee members") are determined by the Audit and Supervisory Committee within the limits of the total amount of remuneration for Audit and Supervisory Committee members as determined by resolution of the General Meeting of Shareholders, taking into account their full-time or part-time audit work status.

(4) The selection of candidates for a Director (excluding directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee Members) is decided by the Board of Directors after deliberation by the Human Resources Strategy Committee and the Independent Advisory Committee based on a skill matrix that lists the skills possessed by each director, bearing in mind the overall knowledge, experience, and abilities of the Board of Directors as a whole, and that diversity is respected as possible in consideration of the number and size of the Board of Directors of the Company. If it is recognized that a director is not fully performing his or her functions, such as when a director violates laws and regulations or the Articles of Incorporation, causes significant loss or hindrance to business, or causes significant obstacles to the execution of duties, the Board of Directors will deliberate on the dismissal of the director.

(5) Regarding the appointment and nomination of individual directors and Audit and Supervisory Committee members, the biographies of candidates are included in the Notice of Convocation of the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders and the annual securities report. In addition, the reasons for each appointment as a Director and Audit and Supervisory Committee member candidate are described in the Notice of Convocation of the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders.

[Principle 3-1 (3) Initiative of Sustainability]

(1) The Company's basic sustainability policy is as follows.

To continue to provide customers with "an ideal space and service for KUTSUROGI", KOMEDA Holdings will consider the global environment and work to solve social issues.

(2) To promote sustainability activities across the entire business organization, the Company has established the Sustainability Committee, chaired by the President and Representative Director. Positioned as a meeting body under the direct control of the President and Representative Director, the Corporate Communication Division serves as the secretariat, the committee continuously implements various measures by setting targets for sustainability activities, monitoring progress, and evaluating achievements of each business internal organization. In addition, the status of sustainability-related activities is reported to the Board of Directors each quarter.

(3) KOMEDA Holdings recognizes climate change initiatives to be an important management issue, and believes that it is necessary to identify risks and opportunities, and link them to increasing corporate value over the medium to long term. Accordingly, in addition to working to reduce CO₂ emissions in the logistics field through the decentralization of factories, and promoting the introduction of renewable energy at factories and stores, the Company discloses on its website the impact of risks and opportunities related to climate change on its business activities and earnings, based on the framework of the TCFD recommendations.

(4) Details of specific sustainability initiatives are disclosed on the Company's website.

(Investing in Human Capital)

As described in Supplementary Principle 2-4 (1), KOMEDA Holdings has identified "Promotion of human resource diversity." as a materiality matter, and believes that it is necessary to create a workplace environment where diverse personnel can demonstrate their abilities, and to develop human resources. In the fiscal year ended February 2023, as an initiative to penetrate diversity into its corporate culture, the Company conducted the second diversity training program from April 2022, bringing together exceptional human resources regardless of age, gender, position, etc.

Going forward, the Company will continue to work for diversity of human capital.

(Investing in Intellectual Property)

Since approximately 95% of KOMEDA's Coffee and Okage-An stores are franchise stores, the Company recognizes that obtaining rights to trademarks used in stores is an important management issue. In 2018, after reviewing the scope of trademark rights in Japan and overseas, the Company applied for registration of necessary trademarks.

Going forward, the Company will continue to consider the sales of each product and the possibility of resale, and periodically apply for and acquire trademark rights that its deems necessary.

[Supplementary Principle 4-1 (1) Outline of Scope of the Matters Delegated to the Management]

Matters other than those stipulated by laws and regulations, internal rules, etc. as matters to be resolved by the Board of Directors are delegated to Directors, etc.

[Principle 4-8 Effective Use of Independent Outside Directors]

The Company has appointed four independent outside directors to exercise the supervisory function of the Company's management corporate activities from an objective, broad, and advanced perspective.

[Principle 4-9 Criteria for Determining the Independence and Qualifications for Independent Outside Directors]

This report II.-1 [Matters Concerning Independent Directors] The Company lists the independence judgment criteria for other matters related to independent directors.

[Supplementary Principle 4-10 (1) Voluntary Committee on Nomination and Remuneration of Directors]

The concept, authority, and roles of the Voluntary Advisory Committee regarding the Nomination and Remuneration of Directors is described in "II.-1 [Voluntary Established Committees]" in this report.

[Supplementary Principle 4-11 (1) Composition of the Board of Directors and Policy and Procedures for Appointment of Directors]

The Board of Directors nominates candidates from both inside and outside the Company with extensive experience, insight, and expertise as director candidates, and by selecting them at the General Meeting of Shareholders, the Board of Directors strives to ensure the diversity of the Board of Directors and the overall balance of knowledge, experience, abilities, and gender in an optimal structure for the Company.

The policies and procedures concerning the appointment of directors are described in Principle 3-1 (iv).

In addition, the Company has appointed a person with management experience an outside company as an outside director.

The Company has prepared a skill matrix for directors and included it in the reference documents for the General Meeting of Shareholders.

[Supplementary Principle 4-11 (2) Directors' Concurrent Positions]

The status of officers in the annual securities report is described in the status of their concurrent positions.

[Supplementary Principle 4-11 (3) Analysis and Evaluation of the Effectiveness of the Board of Directors as a Whole]

The Company conducts an evaluation of the effectiveness of the Board of Directors in March every year as an opportunity to assess the candid opinions of directors regarding the activities of the Board of Directors. In evaluating the effectiveness of the Board of Directors meetings (20 times in total) held from March 2022 to February 2023, the Company conducted an anonymous questionnaire of nine directors (including four outside directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members). The questionnaire covered 1) the composition of the Board of Directors, 2) the operation of the Board of Directors, and 3) the agenda of the Board of Directors. After analyzing the results of the questionnaire at the Audit and Supervisory Committee, the Audit and Supervisory Committee held a discussion on the effectiveness of the Board of Directors at an extraordinary meeting of the Board of Directors on May 8, 2023, and determined that the composition of the Board of Directors, items to be deliberated, frequency of meetings, and deliberation hours were appropriate, and the composition of officers was balanced. It was determined that the effectiveness of the Board of Directors was generally ensured in terms of both decision-making and supervision.

At the same time, to improve the effectiveness of the Board of Directors, views were exchanged regarding implementing initiatives for the following three points.

Firstly, regarding the composition of the Board of Directors, while diversity of the Board of Directors is ensured by appointing certified public accountants, lawyers, people with experience in corporate management, and a female think tank chief researcher as directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members, there was an opinion that it was necessary to strengthen the legal, compliance, and risk management systems in light of the increasing complexity of legal risk management associated with overseas expansion. In this regard, it was decided to enhance the risk management system by developing and effectively utilizing law firms that can more effectively support the Company's business development overseas, strengthening the selection of agenda items by the Risk Countermeasures Committee and the Compliance Committee, and developing organizational structures and human resources related to legal, compliance, and risk management.

Secondary, regarding the operation of the Board of Directors, the view was expressed that it was necessary to review the content of the reports at the Board of Directors meetings in order to engage in higher quality discussions and active exchange of opinions among internal and outside directors, and as a result of the deliberations, it was decided that issues based on the latest business environment and their action plans would be reported on a regular basis.

Finally, considering the opinion that there was a shortage of internal director development plans and opportunities for education and training for directors, it was decided to formulate a systematic plan in the human resources department and further enhance training for directors.

Based on the above opinions, the Company will further promote initiatives to ensure the effectiveness of the Board of Directors.

[Supplementary Principle 4-14 (2) Training Policy for Directors]

To enable directors to fully fulfill their functions, the Company uses training from external organizations and provides opportunities as appropriate. Training costs are borne by the company.

[Principle 5-1 Policy and System for Constructive Dialogue with Shareholders]

The Company is taking the following measures to promote constructive dialogue with shareholders.

(1) In addition to the General Meeting of Shareholders, the Company works to further enhance dialogue with shareholders to a reasonable extent through opportunities such as individual interviews and briefings.

(2) The Company will provide feedback obtained through such dialogue to directors (including Audit and Supervisory Committee members) and internal business organizations, and strive to appropriately reflect these views in corporate activities.

(3) The Company supervises overall dialogue with shareholders, establishes an officer in charge of IR and a department dedicated to IR, and promotes timely and appropriate disclosure of corporate information and dialogue with shareholders.

(4) The Company has formulated various regulations to prevent insider trading and is working to ensure thorough management. In addition, a certain period prior to the announcement of financial results is set as a silent period, and dialogue and interviews with shareholders and investors are restricted.

[Principle 5-2 Formulation and Disclosure of Management Strategies and Plans]

The Company has set the following financial targets as priority strategies in the VALUES 2025 medium-term business plan implemented in FYE 2/21.

• Growth:	EPS (Earnings per share)	Compound annual growth rate of 13%
• Profitability:	ROIC* (Return on Invested Capital)	11.5% or higher in the final year of the plan
• Financial Soundness:	Capital ratio	40% or higher in the final year of the plan
• Shareholder Returns:	Total payout ratio	50% or higher of the cumulative amount during the plan period

* ROIC: Operating profit after tax ÷ (Average of interest-bearing debt at the beginning and end of the fiscal year excluding lease liabilities + Average of equity at the beginning and end of the fiscal year)

Details of the VALUES 2025 medium-term management plan are disclosed on the Company's website.

<https://ssl4.eir-parts.net/doc/3543/tdnet/1954084/00.pdf>

(Measures for the realization of management conscious of the cost of capital and stock price)

The Company calculates the cost of capital based on the weighted average cost of capital. The weighted average cost of capital used for assessing goodwill impairment in the annual securities report for FYE 2/23 is 5.12% (pre-tax discount rate of 7.17%).

The Company has adopted ROIC as a financial target to emphasize profitability and capital efficiency. ROIC has remained at a level well above the weighted average cost of capital.

In addition, at the General Meeting of Shareholders held on May 25, 2023, the Company adopted as a directors' remuneration system performance-based restricted stock compensation conditional on results for financial targets and ESG measures. By setting EPS, ROIC, capital ratio, total payout ratio, and reductions in CO₂ emissions as performance-linked conditions, the Company has linked increases in corporate value with incentives for internal directors.

(Disclosure of the status of basic policies and revisions related to the business portfolio)

The Company's main business is the operation of franchise chains such as KOMEDA's Coffee. Although the Company's Board of Directors has not established a basic policy regarding the business portfolio as of the latest update of this document, the Board does review investments and other business projects each term through the formulation of its management plan.

2. Matters Concerning Functions of Business Execution, Auditing and Supervision, Nomination, and Remuneration Decisions (Overview of Current Corporate Governance System)

KOMEDA Holdings is a company with an Audit and Supervisory Committee, and as an organization based on the Companies Act, in addition to the General Meeting of Shareholders, the Board of Directors and the Audit and Supervisory Committee have been established, and the Compliance Committee and the Risk Countermeasures Committee have been established as a means of building a governance system. In addition, to enhance transparency and objectivity in the determination of director candidates and director remuneration, the Company has established the Independent Advisory Committee (consisting of four independent outside directors) as an advisory body to the Board of Directors and the Human Resources Strategy Committee (consisting of five directors (excluding Audit and Supervisory Committee members)), as an advisory body to the President and Representative Director.

The Board of Directors, which consists of nine directors (including four outside directors and four members of the Audit and Supervisory Committee Members), meets regularly once a month and as necessary to make important decisions for the Company and supervise the execution of duties by directors.

The Audit and Supervisory Committee consists of four outside directors. Outside Director Hisashi Shirahata is a certified public accountant, and Outside Director Chiaki Oda is a lawyer, and each has considerable knowledge of finance, accounting, and legal affairs. Audit and Supervisory Committee members exercise legal authority to investigate business and assets through attendance at meetings of the Board of Directors and to listen to reports from the Directors, employees, and accounting auditors. In addition, the Audit and Supervisory Committee gives direct instructions to the Internal Audit Office for the conduct of audit activities systematically using the internal control system, and receives reports from the Internal Audit Office on the results.

The Company has established the Internal Audit Office as the department in charge of internal audits, and one general manager and two assistants of the Internal Audit Office audit the overall operations of each division of the Group based on an internal audit plan approved by the president. After the internal audit is completed, the facts are confirmed with the head of the audited department (site manager), the results of the internal audit are immediately reported to the head of the audited department, and an internal audit report is prepared and reported to the president. Regarding points to be improved, the president issues instructions in the name of the president requesting the submission of an improvement plan to the audited department and improves operations. In addition, the Internal Audit Office must receive instructions directly from the Audit and Supervisory Committee and report the results, and if the instructions of the President differ from the instructions of the Audit and Supervisory Committee, the instructions of the Audit and Supervisory Committee shall take precedence.

The accounting auditor has concluded an audit agreement with EY Shin Nihon LLC, which provides, from an independent and impartial standpoint, audits of accounting and consultation and exchange of opinions as needed. There is no special interest between the Company and EY Shin Japan LLC or the certified public accountants who execute the business.

In addition to the above, regarding the Company's risk management system, the Company has established "Risk Compliance Regulations" for the purpose of identifying, evaluating, and preventing risks by taking a comprehensive view of various risks, minimizing damage by responding promptly and appropriately when risks materialize, preventing recurrence, protecting corporate value, and complying with laws and regulations. The structure is managed by the Risk Countermeasures Committee and the Compliance Committee under the direct control of the President. The Risk Countermeasures Committee and the Compliance Committee are chaired by the President and are composed of members appointed by the Chairperson, with the General Affairs Department of the Administration Headquarters serving as the secretariat. In addition to the Secretariat's request to the Chairperson to hold meetings as needed, meetings are held regularly once a quarter.

The Independent Advisory Committee, which consists of all four members of the Company's independent outside directors (Audit and Supervisory Committee members), is an organization that reports from an independent standpoint in response to consultations from the Board of Directors and exchanges information for management supervision in order to comply with the relevant principles of the Corporate Governance Code*. It meets twice a year in principle.

The Human Resources Strategy Committee, which consists of all five directors (excluding Audit and Supervisory Committee members) of the Company, is an organization that deliberates, formulates, and reports on human resource strategies that promote the sustainable growth of the Group in addition to candidates for directors in response to consultation from the President and Representative Director of the Company. It meets four times a year in principle.

*Principles 3-1 (iii.), 3-1 (iv.), Supplementary Principle 4-1(3), Supplementary Principle 4-2(1), Principle 4-3, Supplementary principles 4-3 (1), Supplementary principles 4-3 (2), Additional principles 4-3 (3), Additional Principles 4-11 (1)

3. Reasons for Adoption of Current Corporate Governance System
